Some one having the good of the community at heart, and desiring to care the gratitude of his fellow-men, ought to muzzle or ertpole the interepti Woits, who acts as secretary of the Republican State rentral committee of Virginia, so that he will be unable to continue his with rhetorical career. We have received several communications from him, which show that he is in danger of doing something desperate, and that he has taken upon his own individual shoulders the responsibility of selecting men for all the "Federal appointments" to be made in Virginia. We cannot find room for them; but to show his power as a rhetorician, his loyalty to the Republican party, and his sagacity as a politician, we give space to an extract. Wolff did not know when he wrote it that his especial pet, Mr. Beckley, had received an appointment. We suppose, now that Reckley is a mall agent, the country is safe. On such small things do the fate of republics hang. Wolfs writtes:

"The Republicans of Virginia mean business." They mean not to sucremeter the virtue;

He is credited with having figured as the headilght of the new train of ideas which are now sweeping over the empire of the Mikado, which is true; but it is untrue that he has at any time placed himself at variance with his Government, except in so far that he has at any time placed himself at va-riance with his Government, except in so far as his better knowledge and more progressive ideas have compelled him to do so. We print in another column this morning a state-ment that he sailed from Marseilles for Japan on the 8th instant, and we have information that on his arrival at Yokohama he will be called to fill an important position in the for-eign department of his Government.
